

YOUNG FOLKS' COLUMN.

A HALF HOUR'S PLEASURE READING FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Christmas is a happy time—the celebration of the birth of the Christ-child. What a little girl who has waited for Santa Claus.

It is to the Germans, as perhaps many of our young folks know, that the custom of waiting for Santa Claus is attributed. The children are told that the beautiful old man, who brings them their presents, will come on the night of Christmas Eve. The children are told that the old man will come on the night of Christmas Eve. The children are told that the old man will come on the night of Christmas Eve.

Few if any American children dream of waiting in a dark nursery until the ringing of a mysterious bell tells them that the Christ-child has made his visit and departed, leaving gifts behind, and certainly they do not sit in breathless awe and silence, waiting to catch the rustle of the angel's wings.

A HAPPY CHRISTMAS.
In the German observance of Christmas there is a child, or occasionally even a young girl, selected to represent the infant Jesus, whom German folk and others are taught to regard as the donor of the various gifts scattered about the glowing green bough. And in the love of Christianity, every where, the active interference of the Christ-child or some kindly saint on behalf of the poor, is a very prominent characteristic, and leads ready consequence to customs which not only excite curiosity, expectation and gratitude, but prepare young hearts for a wider comprehension of the true spirit of the festival.

The popular tradition makes St. Nicholas the special patron of boys and girls. He appears in old and new times, in the person of the respectable Dutchman, the terror of the ill-doer. Tears are pretty sure to start at the approach and anxious demand of this formidable monitor. But the Christ-child glides the scene as the offender, presents amendment on his or her behalf and achieves a successful result.

In the typical application of the patron of Christmas is simply that of "Nicky Nick." In almost his place is taken by a maiden dressed in white, with a white paper skirt, and a white headband, and a silver ball, in the other a basket of sweetmeats. Here there is an adversary to be reckoned with by naughty children, in the person of the respectable Dutchman, the terror of the ill-doer. Tears are pretty sure to start at the approach and anxious demand of this formidable monitor. But the Christ-child glides the scene as the offender, presents amendment on his or her behalf and achieves a successful result.

But in whatever way Christmas gifts may come to the young folk of different nations, whether on Christmas tree or in stockings, whether brought to the child by the angel of the Christ-child, or down the chimney by the respectable Dutchman, the terror of the ill-doer. Tears are pretty sure to start at the approach and anxious demand of this formidable monitor. But the Christ-child glides the scene as the offender, presents amendment on his or her behalf and achieves a successful result.

The Olive Tree.
The olive tree, Olea Europaea, grows abundantly in all the countries bordering on the Mediterranean sea. It thrives upon the most rocky, calcareous soil, seldom exceeds twenty feet in height, but is much branched and spreading; it lives to a great age, and its wood is very much in demand, so that one tree may easily, at a little distance, be mistaken for a group. There is an olive tree at Porto even hundred years old and twenty-five feet in circumference. The tree also grows abundantly in Judea, and there are some still standing in the Garden of Gethsemane, which are so large and old that they are thought to have been in existence ever since the time of our Saviour.

On Christmas Eve.
We know of a sleepy little girl who begged to be allowed to sit up one Christmas eve to watch for Santa Claus.

WHAT THE LITTLE GIRL SAW.
As she was beginning to nod, she heard a tinkling sound, and, looking up, she saw at the window, in the bright moonlight, just what our picture shows you!

A Short Lesson in Grammar.
Discriminate in the use of the comparative and the superlative degree. When only two objects are compared, the comparative degree and not the superlative should be employed. Thus "John is the taller of the pair" is the correct use of the comparative.

"John is the taller of the pair" is the correct use of the comparative. When more than two are compared, the superlative should be employed. Thus "John is the tallest of the three" is the correct use of the superlative. Which is the most desecrating profession, medicine, law or engineering?

Enter the Mistletoe.
The mistletoe is a very green and glossy plant, and is often found on the old Christmas trees. It is a very old custom to hang it on the trees, and it is said that it was first used by the Romans. It is a very old custom to hang it on the trees, and it is said that it was first used by the Romans.

Sheep have no teeth in the upper jaw. In some parts of the world there are sheep that have most of their teeth in their tails. These tails weigh so much that they have to be tied on small carts, which the sheep draw after them when they walk. The carts are made of flat boards on two wheels. The fat of the tail is very soft, and is used as butter.

The crocodile devours all kinds of birds. It can get but one, the stork. It is said that when the crocodile comes on shore he opens his jaws and this bird, which is called the stork, comes and sits on the crocodile's back. The crocodile then swallows the stork, and the stork is then found in the crocodile's jaws and teeth, and which have collected there owing to the creature being for so long a time in the water. The stork is then found in the crocodile's jaws and teeth, and which have collected there owing to the creature being for so long a time in the water.

QU'APPELLE.

—Dr. Low, of Montreal, is visiting friends in town.

—Mr. G. Jensen has been appointed foreman of a section west of Moose Jaw.

—Next Monday is the day for the regular monthly meeting of the municipal council.

—A social hop will be held this evening in the Government hall, to which all are invited.

—Rev. Mr. Ferry will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening at the usual hour.

—A subscription list is in circulation to raise money for a summer racing meeting to be held here.

—Love & Raymond's hog ranch is completed. It is situated south of the track and contains 15 fine porkers.

—G. S. Davidson will receive a car of buckboards and baggies in a few days, which will be sold at bottom prices.

—A special meeting of Qu'Appelle Council, R. T. of T., will be held on Tuesday evening next, at the usual hour.

—To-morrow, Saturday, at 14 o'clock, Mr. G. S. Davidson will sell 1 team of ponies, 1 buckboard, 1 cutter and 1 set double harness.

—Prof. Tanner, who was here on a business visit in connection with the new Brasse farming company, has returned to Winnipeg.

—For seed oats go to G. H. V. Bulyea. He is also expecting a car of first class seed potatoes about the 25th inst, which he will sell at lowest cash price.

—We have received an advertisement from the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York, but it is crowded out this week. It will appear in our next.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Caswell went to Touchwood last week for an outing. They returned on Tuesday. Mr. Caswell bagged over two hundred ducks and presented some of them to friends.

—Dr. E. H. Scott, late of Moosemin, arrived a few days ago, and has taken up Dr. Edwards' practice. Dr. Scott has taken Dr. Edwards' residence and will move his family here shortly.

—The quarterly business meeting of the officials of the Methodist church on the Qu'Appelle circuit was held on Friday last. Rev. J. M. Harrison, the chairman of the district, presided.

The subject "Be sure you are right, then go ahead," was ably handled and highly appreciated by those present, but we regret to say that their number was small. A lecturer, though the best of intellectual food, does not attract an audience in Qu'Appelle so much as when kinds of water are mentioned.

—At a special meeting of the Regina Presbytery held at Indian Head on Wednesday last, the call of the congregation at Qu'Appelle to Rev. J. Ferry was sustained. Mr. Ferry's induction here will take place shortly.

Hookins, Cra-ven; W. Maloney, McLeod; C. Lindsay, Treecastle; Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. Riddell, Deep Lake; G. Beatty, Listowel; Rev. W. E. Brown, Moose Jaw.

—A general meeting of the members of the Cricket Club was held on Saturday evening last to pass a vote of condolence with Mrs. Strong, and for other business. The Rev. W. Nicolls was elected a vice-President in place of Dr. Edwards, and Rev. H. S. Akehurst secretary-treasurer. Mr. Oser announced his intention of purchasing a net for the club, which will be much appreciated by the members. The first practice of the club will be on Tuesday, May 6th, on the old practice ground, opposite the mill. All members are requested to attend. Members and all wishing to join the club are reminded that their subscription ($1 per annum) is by a rule of the club due on May 1st, and should therefore be paid at once to the Captain, Mr. N. G. Williams, or to the Secretary.

April 29th, 1900.

To the Editor of The Progress:
Sir,—I would like to call the attention of our citizens to the state of our cemetery. I believe that something might be done to make it look a little respectable, to say the least, as at its present state it is a disgrace to the community. Owing to the number of deaths during the past winter there is an accumulation of clay strewn about the place. This could be removed at very little expense and the place made to look as if we cared a little about those who have lately passed away from our midst. Again, I would protest against the practice of placing three graves in one lot, as in that case they are so close that there is no room left to walk between them, and in this broad land there should certainly be no need for such crowding, for land is cheap.
Trusting some one will take this matter up.
Yours, etc. C. T. C.

A. Harris, Son & Co., Brantford.

WE do not claim to have received a Gold Medal at Paris, although we received two Silver Medals, but we DO CLAIM—

FIRST—To have defeated the Massey (Toronto) Binder in every competition in the world, where we have met it on an equal footing.
SECOND—During the season of 1889-90, in Australasia, the "Brantford" defeated all the leading binders of the world. See list of victories.

THIRD—In the Australasian competitions the "Brantford" Binder defeated the Massey (Toronto) SIX TIMES; or EVERY TIME the two binders came into competition the "Brantford" was victorious. See list of victories.

FOURTH—The "Brantford" Binder replaced every other binder of any consequence made in Canada in 1889. That is, where other makes of NEW binders failed and were returned, the "Brantford" was purchased and successfully finished the work.

FIFTH—We challenge any one to point to a single instance where a new "Brantford" has been returned through failure to do its work.

SIXTH—A great many more "Brantford" Binders were sold in Canada in 1889 than of ANY OTHER MAKE, and as many as were sold by FOURTEEN other Canadian makers put together.

SEVENTH—The "Brantford" Binder is a "Home" machine and has a "Home" record without a single defeat in any kind of crop, used by hundreds of satisfied farmers in all the provinces of the Dominion.

EIGHTH—The "Brantford" Binder, as sold "at home," is specially designed and built for home trade, and is particularly adapted to the needs of Canadian farms and farmers. For foreign countries it is built to suit the peculiarities of the land and crop prevailing where it is sold.
